Holy Fathers of the Seventh Ecumenical Council

The Seventh Ecumenical Council met at Nicaea in October, 787AD. It was convoked by the Empress Irene. The council ended almost fifty years of iconoclast persecution and established the veneration of the holy icons as basic to the belief and spirituality of Christ's Church. As the Synaxarion says, "It was not simply the veneration of the holy images that the Fathers defended in these terms but, in fact, the very reality of the Incarnation of the Son of God."

"The second Council of Nicaea is the seventh and last Ecumenical Council recognized by the Orthodox Church.

EVENTS OF INTEREST

On October 18th, Greek Orthodox Church officials gathered in lower Manhattan for a blessing of the site where St. Nicholas Church that was destroyed in the Sept. 11 terror attacks will be rebuilt. The tiny St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church was the only house of worship destroyed when the twin towers collapsed on Sept. 11, 2001. A $38 million, domed alabaster sanctuary will replace its modest 19th-century predecessor — a tiny four-story building toppled by the collapse of the South Tower. Designed by Spanish architect Santiago Calatrava, the Byzantine-style structure is scheduled for completion in 2016.

St Nicholas Church welcomes Marilyn Halama to the Orthodox Christian Faith through the Sacrament of Chrismation on October 19th. May God grant her many years!
